

LIAR?

Many believe they can consider Jesus to be a good teacher or perhaps a prophet but not God's Son or only Savior of the world. The only problem is, the only authoritative and extensive record we have concerning the man named Jesus is the Bible, and in the Bible Jesus calls himself God and Savior. That means he's either a liar or the LORD.

LUNATIC?

Since Jesus claimed to be the Savior and only Son of God, perhaps he was insane. Maybe he truly believed he was these things but in reality he wasn't. But how many lunatics have changed the world and have left an empty tomb behind?

JESUS... LIAR, LUNATIC, LEGEND, Or LORD?

LEGEND?

It wasn't until the 1700's that people began to wonder if there was really a person named Jesus. Secular sources from that time period, however, mention Jesus and his followers.

He's not a legend.

THERE ARE NO OTHER

Jesus is, hands-down, the most controversial figure of all human history. No one can just write him off and give him little thought. You must conclude that he was the world's worst deceiver or the Lord of Lords.

LORD?

The easiest way to understand Jesus is to take him at his word. He is Lord and King, the only Savior from sin, death, and hell.

Who else has never written a book, traveled more than 200 miles from home, or done anything else that is typical for people to become famous yet has impacted the world like he has?

All other religions put him somewhere in their teachings. His eyewitness followers all lost their lives for him. Most importantly, his tomb is still empty just like he said he would leave it. Liars, lunatics, and legends could never accomplish the things he did. It's obvious. Jesus is LORD!

Conclusion...

Although many may want to call Jesus a good man or great teacher, he was either a liar, a lunatic, a legend, or the Lord. Why?

He claimed that he was God's only Son and Savior of the World. If this isn't true, he is far from being a good teacher.

But thanks be to God that Jesus' tomb is empty. He is Lord and forgives your sin!
